What Personal Information is Covered?

The specific Personal Information that we collect, use, and disclose relating to a California Resident covered by the CCPA will vary based on our relationship or interaction with that individual. Under the CCPA, ‘Personal Information’ is information that identifies, relates to, describes, is reasonably capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, with a particular California Resident. Personal Information does not include information that is publicly available from government records or that is deidentified or aggregated.

To the extent the Personal Information we collect, however, is already regulated by certain federal and state laws, it is exempt from most of the requirements of the CCPA. For instance, the access, portability, and deletion rights of the CCPA outlined below do not apply to personal information that we collect about California Residents who apply for or obtain our financial products and services for personal, family, or household purposes (information that is subject to the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (“GLBA”). The CCPA’s access, portability, and deletion rights also do not apply under certain conditions to our collection, processing, sale, or disclosure of personal information under the California Financial Privacy Act, or information bearing on consumer credit worthiness, credit standing, credit capacity, character, general reputation, personal characteristics or mode of living by certain individuals and entities under the Fair Credit Reporting Act. For more information about how we collect, disclose, and secure this type of exempt information, please refer to the Alaska USA Privacy Notice.

Keeping Personal Information secure is one of our most important priorities. Consistent with our obligations under applicable laws and regulations, we maintain physical, technical, electronic, procedural and organizational safeguards and security measures that are designed to protect personal data against accidental, unlawful, or unauthorized destruction, loss, alteration, disclosure, or access, whether it is processed by us or elsewhere.
